Federal Loan Alternatives

There are currently no Federal Loan Alternatives that allow the consolidation of private education loans. Federal Consolidation Loans only allow for the consolidation of federal student loans and may not be used to consolidate private education loans. The interest rate for the federal Direct Consolidation Loan equals the weighted average interest rate of the loans being consolidated, rounded up to the nearest one-eighth of one percent.

Think carefully before using a consolidation loan to pay off your federal student loans. If you refinance your federal student loans through this program, you will lose federal student loan benefits such as income driven repayment or loan forgiveness options that may be available to federal student loan borrowers. In addition, federal student loans offer deferment and forbearance options that are not available to you if you take out a private consolidation loan.

You may qualify for a federal education loan. For additional information about a consolidation option for federal loans, contact the Department of Education at: www.studentloans.gov.

Next Steps

1. Find Out About Other Loan Options

Visit the Department of Education's website at: www.studentloans.gov for more information about consolidation loan options that may be available only for federal student loans.

2. To Apply for this Loan Complete the Application

If you are approved for this loan, the loan terms will be available for 30 days (terms will not change during this period, except as permitted by law).

Fixed Interest Rate

- The interest rate will be set when the loan is conditionally approved and will not increase above that rate before the loan is paid in full. The interest rate is based upon your (or your cosigner's, if applicable) credit history and the repayment term you select.
